ABSTRACT

This booklet provides a guide to the locations of more than 500 periodicals and newspapers relating to black Americans which were received before November 1974 by the libraries of the University of Wisconsin at Madison and the library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. The scope of the guide is broad, including literary, political, and historical journals, as well as general newspapers of the black community. Representation of all phases of black thought and action, from the Abolitionist involvement of the nineteenth century to the civil rights and black nationalist movements of the 1960s and 1970s, is provided. The alphabetical main listing (by title of publication) is supplemented by a subject index and a list arranged by state. (Author/KS)

This publication is a guide to the holdings and locations of more than 500 periodical and newspaper titles relating to black Americans which were received before November, 1974 in libraries of the University of Wisconsin - Madison and in the Library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. It includes older titles which have long since ceased publication as well as those still being published. The scope of the guide is broad, including literary, political, and historical journals as well as general newspapers of the black community, and represents all phases of black thought and action, from the Abolitionists of the nineteenth century to the civil rights and black-nationalist movements of the 1960's and 1970's. Prepared in response to the requests of faculty and students who found that effectively utilizing our dispersed, though rich, resources was difficult, we hope that this guide will facilitate use of our collections by scholars locally as well as nationally. It is, we believe, a guide to one of the strongest collections in this field.

The arrangement of the main listing is alphabetical. An explanation of the standard entry format follows:

[1]Western Cyclone. [2]Nicodemus, Kansas, [3]May 13, 1886-Dec. 16, 1887// [4](Black newspaper)

[5]Hist [6]May 13, 1886-Dec. 16, 1887.

1. Title (Organizational main entries are used when appropriate)
2. Place of publication, if known
3. Dates of publication, if known. Double slash marks (//) indicate the title has ceased publishing.
4. Sponsoring organization or descriptive phrase, if needed to explain the inclusion of the title in the list.

5. Library holding this title. A listing of the libraries whose holdings have been included in this compilation and the symbols used for each follows the introduction.
6. Holdings of the title in the library. Brackets ([]) around the dates indicate the holdings are of scattered dates or incomplete.

After the main alphabetical listing is a geographic index which organizes all titles by place of publication. Following this geographic index is a selective subject index. The subject index does not include all titles in the compilation but should be of use to persons seeking examples of black publications on subjects such as education and Pan-Africanism.

This guide could not have been compiled without the invaluable assistance of other librarians who shared with us information on holdings in their collections: Louise Henning (Kohler Art Library), Marilyn Hicks (Business School Library), Miriam Allman (Center for Health Sciences Library), Dotti Delfino (College Library), Heidi Klasna (U. W. Law School Library), Pamela Berlin (Mills Music Library), Audrey Orr (Library School Library), Colin Cameron (Social Science Graduate Reference Room), and Thurston Davini (School of Social Work Library). The compilers are grateful for their willingness to make this list as complete as it is. Since we plan to update it periodically, we would like to encourage anyone with comments or suggestions to send them to the compilers.
